

PRESS RELEASE FOR DARIEN NEWS TIMES

Attorney holds divorce workshop

Date: October 23, 2008 Section: News

Darien attorney Merrie Hawley, who practices family law and estate planning, along with Elizabeth Cox, a certified financial planner, will hold a two-part session on divorce from 7 to 8:30 p.m., on Thursdays, Nov. 6 and 13. The workshop, hosted by Wilton Continuing Education, will address how to avoid common legal and financial mistakes many make as they face divorce.

Hawley has been practicing law in the area since 1999. She helps her clients consider the many issues that arise when distributing a family's marital assets including any estate planning issues as a result of divorce. Hawley offers court and trial experience as well as mediation and collaborative law options. Hawley may be reached at 613-7480, at mhawleyllc.com or Google, Merrie Hawley.

With over 15 years in the financial industry, Cox is an independent financial advisor with Raymond James Financial Services, Inc. in Wilton. She specializes in helping clients navigate the financial complexities of divorce and shift to a new life of financial strength and independence. Cox may be reached at 834-2243, ecofinancial.com, or Elizabeth.cox@raymondjames.com.

To sign up, call the Wilton Continuing Education office at 834-7694 or visit wilton.k12.ct.us, click on the continuing education tab, find the Fall 2008 brochure, and scroll down to page 22.
